Hope

from the, Tongue of fire so there is a thing that lifts the soul above earth, there that bears it after that stays it mid control Bright when griefs are tempestuous and fears a soft pervading ray Lifes ills can never chase away

Feeling

Thou art a mystery: the mighty sea
Commutative Springs and is unknown to art
Despotent, quick, irresistible
As from the deep recesses of the heart,
It springs and shines as the tear-gemmed eye
The flush of joy or pallid cheek
the smile or sigh Is thou directest: so thou art the all our pleasures or of all our woes

Speak in kindness to the stranger
Called from home and friends to roam
Through this chilling world a ranger
None can tell how lone his heart

Gentle words are easily spoken
But they fill the soul with joy
Oft they raise the heart that's broken
Oft they dry the falling tear

Speak in kindness to the stranger
For one day, then too may it be
Of thy home a constant changer
Then kind words will comfort thee

Then with gentle accents charm thee
Like the love-tones of a dream
And forbidding cares shall harm thee
Fill thy soul with joy & bright beam

What is Love
To sigh pitiful in pain
To weep, yet scarce know why
To sport an hour with Beauty's Eye.
Then throw it idly by
To wear the heart as a shrine
Not lay the heart on none
Letting all other charms die
But those we last have won
This is love — careless love
Such as kindle the hearts that
To keep one sacred flame
Thro life unchilled unmoved
To love in unity as the same
As first in youth we loved
To hold that dear adore
With such refined excess
That to the heart will burst more
It cannot love with less
This is love — faithful love
Such as saints might feel
