SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

This collection consists of microfilm purchased from the National Archives. The collection documents early military history of Nebraska, as a territory and a state. For the most part, the records cover Indians from 1871-1896, and volunteer service in the Civil War. The records on microfilm are a part of RG94, Records of the Adjutant General's Office, housed in the National Archives. The microfilm is housed in reference room.

The collection is divided into five series: 1) Letters Received by the Adjutant General's Office, 1871-1880; 2) Special Reports and Miscellaneous, 1805-1896; and 3) Returns Received from Regular Army Cavalry Units, 1868-1916; 4) Returns Received from Regular Army Infantry Units, 1876-1894; and 5) Compiled Service Records of Volunteer Union Soldiers;.

Series One contains correspondence and reports received by the Adjutant General's office that are a part of M666 of the National Archives collections.

Series Two contains special reports of expeditions and investigations by the Adjutant General's office, 1805-1896, including such subjects as the Zebulon Pike expedition, the civil war, the Wounded Knee Massacre, and the Powder River Expedition.

Series Three, purchased in 1993, contains returns of the 3rd through the 12th cavalry units while they served in Nebraska, Kansas, and Iowa, and particularly Fort Robinson and vicinity. The records on microfilm are a part of RG94, Adjutant General, at the National Archives and microcopy M744.

Series Four, purchased in 1997, contains returns of 4th, 8th, 9th, and 14th Infantry Regiments. The records on microfilm are from microfilm publication M665 of the National Archives.

Series Five, purchased in 1995, contains service records of volunteer Union soldiers who served in organizations from the territory of Nebraska. Members of the Civil War Conservation Corps prepared the records for filming. Donations from Cliff and Mary Hillegass and Cliffs Notes, Inc. of Lincoln provided the funding needed to microfilm the records. The units represented in this microfilm include the First and Second Nebraska Cavalrys, and the First Battalion of the Nebraska Cavalry.

Series Six contains the records of service and enlistments for Indian Scouts, including the Omaha & Pawnee indians.
