Scotts Bluff County, Nebraska

HISTORICAL NOTE

Scotts Bluff County, located on the extreme northwest limits of Cheyenne County was created from part of that county by an election held on November 6, 1888. There were farmers in the area of Scottsbluff in 1881. An election contest between Gering and Mitchell held in 1888 resulted in Gering being named the county seat. The county constructed a brick courthouse here which was replaced in the 1920s.

The county name, the town of Scottsbluff, and a prominent nearby cliff, came from fur trader Hiram Scott it is said diedd nearby in 1828 after being abandoned by his companions. Scotts Bluff county is noted for its specialized irrigation agriculture.

The town of Scottsbluff was established by the Lincoln Land Company and organized by the county commissioners July 20, 1900. The first post office in the county had been established here August 31, 1899. The first school district was organized October 3, 1889 in Kiowa precinct southwest of Morrill. The North Platte valley, through the development of irrigation begun in the 1890's, is today one of Nebraska's most fertile and productive areas.
