

Norfolk Regional Center Cemetery Records, 1888-1954

History Nebraska Library/Archives staff originally compiled an index to a booklet titled State Hospital for the Insane, Norfolk, Madison County, Nebraska. This booklet includes names, date of death, burial date, and county of residence for those individuals who were buried in the cemeteries connected with the current Norfolk Regional Center (NRC). The material was gathered and compiled from the original records between 1974 and 1984 by the Madison County Genealogical Society, which may have distributed this booklet to research facilities, libraries, etc. History Nebraska provided its index based on this booklet to the Norfolk Regional Center for its approval in 2009-10. The NRC reviewed the index with its original records and revised or corrected the data, available in this PDF document. There is some information not included in this index that was in the original booklet, since the Regional Center cannot legally verify the information without a Nebraska Court Order.

The Norfolk Regional Center grounds have two cemeteries. In September 1901 there was a fire that destroyed the main building and the records housed there. Information was extracted from remaining records. Some records indicated that the patient was buried on NRC grounds, but there is no indication which cemetery or plot. Based on records, there are approximately 450 patients buried in the new cemetery. There is no verifiable information for the remaining patients (approximately 73), to determine where these individuals are buried as records only indicate they were buried in the hospital cemetery.

Any further information regarding the medical records of patients at the Norfolk Regional Center must be directed to the Center. History Nebraska has only the booklet in its Library and this index. The death dates provided might be useful in locating obituaries of these patients in their home county's newspapers.
