18x10	192	24x14	98
18x11	175	24x16	86

WEIGHT PER SQUARE, ABOUT 600 LBS.

We will keep on hand, during the season of 1888, a larger stock than ever of

ROOFING SLATE,

And will be prepared to furnish at lowest market rates,

Vermont Uniform Green Slate,

Vermont Unfading Green Slate,

And Vermont Red Slate,

—AND—

← PENNSYLVANIA BLACK SLATE, →

—FROM THE—

Bangor Co.'s Quarries, Chapman Slate Co.'s Quarries and the Peach Bottom Slate Co.'s Quarries.

While we shall try to carry a stock of Slate large enough to enable us to supply ordinary lots from our yard, yet, as it is sometimes difficult to do so, especially when two or three colors of the same size are wanted, we trust our friends will, when possible, give us their orders early enough to enable us to get them direct from the quarry—taking from three to five weeks time. Price this way being less than when shipped from our yard, as two handlings are saved.

ROOFING FELT AND SLATING NAILS

ALWAYS IN STOCK,

Or will furnish all materials and put on complete, in any part of the United States, any kind of Roofing, Slate, on any description of Roof.

SECTION SHOWING ONE STYLE OF SASH BAR.

Send for Fully Illustrated Catalogue and Price List.

Our prices are as low as is possible for good, responsible work.

These Skylights are to be found on the best buildings in the United States, whole roofs having been constructed by us after this system. Amongst the large number of those put up by us during 1882 we mention as noteworthy on account of their size, those at the—

C. B. & Q. R'y Co.'s Office Building, Chicago—54 ft.x70 ft.—we doing the entire work, including the iron trusses.

First National Bank Building, Chicago—19 ft.x70 ft.—with glass sides all around, arranged to open and close for ventilation.

During the past five years, unscrupulous persons have been manufacturing Sheet Metal Skylights as near the Hayes' system as they dared. We contend that no successful Sheet Metal Skylight can be made without infringing upon the Hayes' patents. The legal questions as to the validity of the Hayes' patents are now being decided in the East. Most of the responsible dealers there have ceased infringing, acknowledging the strength and justice of the patents; and several have been enjoined and paid damages. The decision of these cases in Hayes' favor will prevent other infringers from even contesting his patents, unless they can produce new evidence of anticipation, which will be almost impossible, as the Eastern cases have been exhaustively defended.

So all the Western infringers can do then, will be to cease manufacturing and pay heavy damages for past infringements, and as the owners will be equally liable, it would seem the part of prudence for them and responsible contractors to deal only with Hayes, the patentee, or with those (like ourselves) under license from him. By so doing, you get the best skylight and run no risks.

THIS FABLE TEACHETH:

Get the "Hayes' Patent" Skylight from a licensee; you will then be guaranteed against leakage from outside storm or inside condensation, as well as against suit for INFRINGEMENT OF PATENT.

THESE ARE A FEW OF THE DIFFERENT STYLES OF OUR

SKYLIGHTS

Fully Illustrated Catalogue will be Sent on Application.
